

UBC Analyst internship

UB Capital is looking for full time interns to join our investment banking team for the spring of 2018 in our Stockholm office. The internship is a unique opportunity to experience the culture and atmosphere of a boutique investment bank and gain insight into financial markets. The internship runs for approximately six months with start in January

We seek highly motivated team players, that preferably have 1-3 semesters left to graduation, with sound analytical, quantitative and communication skills combined with a genuine interest in corporate finance and the ability to perform under pressure. Fluency in English and Swedish is essential. Previous internship experience would be advantageous.

As an intern at UB Capital your responsibilities include carrying out in-depth company and industry research, performing valuation analysis, and drafting presentations for client meetings, participating in all stages of transaction processes from pitching to closing.

To apply for the position, please send your application including cover letter, CV and transcripts of records from university to recruiting@ubcapital.com as soon as possible. Interviews will be held on ongoing basis. Only successful candidates will be contacted.

If you have any questions regarding the application process, please contact us at the email address stated above.
