

Join our team!

JOB FUNCTION

Consultant Trainee

SENIORITY LEVEL

Internship

WORKING HOURS

Full-time

LOCATION

Stockholm

Who we are

We are an internationally established boutique style company that works with the bridge between psychology and business performance. We work both on an organizational level (organizational development, stress management and turnaround processes) as well as with individuals (leadership assessment, development and coaching). Our goal is to lead the development within human capital through knowledge and experience.

Job Description

We are currently looking for trainees for the fall semester 2019. We can offer an internship to one or two highly motivated master students and we hope this internship is just the beginning of your future career with us. As part of our team you will work with our clients on their organizational development project. This includes analyzing current processes, identify areas of development and create and implement new strategies. On an individual level you will perform leadership assessments for recruitment and development purposes using psychometric testing and interviews, analyze results, make recommendations and provide feedback to the organization and candidate.

Who you are

- You have a University Degree and are currently pursuing a master's degree within Economy, Business Management, HR or other equivalent.
- Enjoys traveling and wants to follow the team abroad on business trips.
- Comfortable with written and oral presentations, in Swedish and English.
- Basic statistic skills.
- Ability to work independently and strong problem-solving ability.
- Preferably have a strong extracurricular background from university.
- Highly extroverted person with a high motor.

If this sounds like you, please send your CV and Cover Letter to christoffer.olenas@cohrgroup.com

It is important for us that you have a genuine interest in strategic HR and business transformation and want to improve organizations using scientific methods. We want you to be proactive in your way of working and bring a lot of energy, take initiative, be a team player and genuinely enjoy meeting clients and giving them a positive experience.