

HC Capital Advisors GmbH

We are an investment advisory firm with approximately 150-200m EUR under advisory. Our firm was founded in 2014 and has been growing strongly. Our investment strategy combines the insights of value investing with the findings of behavioral finance in order to find small, extraordinary businesses that are run by talented and honest managers who reinvest cash flow wisely.

Job description:

The internship program will be an opportunity to work directly with a number of seasoned investment professionals and will include a large amount of investment analysis, both business quality assessment and financial modelling. The core expectations for this role are an individual who is willing to turn over a lot of rocks and is excited by the prospect of finding a great, misunderstood and undervalued business.

We are eager to hear from applicants who display the following criteria:

- Intellectually curious
- Entrepreneurial, candidates who can „make a buck“ in anything are highly prized
- Emotionally intelligent, understanding humans, their emotions and incentives

In addition to English you should be fluent in another European language.

We offer you the opportunity to be part of a professional team committed to intelligent investing. We will give you an intensive training and regular feedback on your work. We have no hierarchy, thus you have the opportunity to make a impact if you have good ideas. Moreover the internship may lead to fulltime employment if the applicant displays the requisite investing talent.

How to apply:

Applicants will be required to submit a resume, a cover letter and one investment idea to wright@hccapitaladvisors.de

The investment write up may be any length, but should include a one page summary, must be entirely the work of the applicant and should have a heavy focus on why the business is mispriced, rather than simple valuation work. I.e. what is the market missing?
